About Jonathan Goodman

Goodman is president of Halyard Consulting, which was founded in 2007 when he recognized the difficulties small businesses had gaining top positions in the search engines. Since then his focus has been to improve the search rankings of businesses with geographically specific customers. He believes that small businesses with limited resources deserve the same opportunities for search engine success as larger companies with powerful budgets.

Goodman brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to the marketing challenges of today. Through his determination and devotion to excellence, he has helped numerous businesses achieve results others could only dream.
Goodman started his career over 20 years ago at the dawn of the Internet age producing websites for Fortune 500 companies. He holds an MBA from Fairleigh Dickinson University, an MS from the College of New Rochelle, and a BFA from the Ringling College of Art and Design.
